Kunyang Chhish.

Dave Cheesmond was fond of saying that if you could climb in the Rockies, you could climb anywhere. Having spent the past two summers trying to get up mountains big and small in Pakistan, I have managed to put a new spin on his saying: "If you can fail here, you can fail anywhere!"

Crossing the Hispar River.

Mountain Sea scape Antarctica.

Margo standing at the South Pole marker.

Witness the mythical beauty of this great white wilderness where Margo has guided for the past two seasons both on the peninsula as well as inland to the Vinson Massif and the South Pole.
